

School Visits

I would love to come to your school and share Mom's Big Catch with your students! Give me a call or drop me an email to find out more information about possible dates, pricing and presentations.

I believe in offering a positive message to the students, encouraging them to never give up on their dreams while also focusing on the power of reading! We talk about the journey of becoming an author and walk through the idea, writing, editing and illustration phases until we reach our exciting destination: the book!

It would be great if we could do the presentations (which run about 30 minutes) in your library or a classroom with a smart board. Then the students can enjoy the website, and we can watch the book trailer and other fun video clips. I really like to keep the group sizes fairly small in size, and I would be happy to stay at your school for as long as you would like.

No presales of Mom's Big Catch are required but I would be thrilled if the children had the choice to purchase a signed copy if they wanted to. Partial proceeds from Mom's Big Catch go to the Linda Blair WorldHeart Foundation which helps give dogs loving homes. I can bring the signed books with me on the day of our visit!

Contact: marla@marlamckenna.com or 262-514-4260

About the Author

Marla McKenna wrote Mom's Big Catch one night when she couldn't sleep. It's a fun-loving story inspired by actual events. You won't believe it until you read it for yourself!

Visit me on        www.marlamckenna.com

